

Within-site communities are generally more similar than among-site communities

Half-violins show Bray-Curtis dissimilarities; points are medians and thick/thin lines show the central 50% and 95% i

Among sites Within site

All compartments use the same 36 complete plant individuals.